THE FUTURE OF CITIES,
INFORMATION, AND INCLUSION

A stylized globe with a green and yellow color scheme. The globe is covered in a grid of small dots and is surrounded by various icons representing technology, people, and data. The icons include a person, a smartphone, a laptop, a network diagram, and a butterfly. The globe is set against a dark background with some faint lines and dots.

Smart Cities Portfolio Priorities

- Smart Cities Portfolio launched: Helsinki conference, Nov. 2010
- Currently developing the workplan of the Smart Cities Portfolio Working Group: City of Manchester is Chair
- Work in partnership with Eurocities, ENoLL, FIA and other networks to promote Smart Cities and plan collaborative work, including knowledge exchange
- Communications plan being developed in partnership with the European Commission
- Exploiting projects' links with key decision makers at city, regional, national and international level

Eurocities

Smart Cities Network

- Eurocities founded in 1986 and its Brussels office opened in 1992
- Telecities founded in 1993 and first EC funded “European Digital Cities” project (94-96 - FP4)
- led to further projects:
  - TEN-Telecom project ‘InfoCities’ (96-98)
  - IntelCity Roadmap project (FP5 – 2002-3)
  - Intelligent Cities project (FP6 – 2004-6)
- Telecities became Eurocities Knowledge Society Forum (KSF) in 2005
- Manchester was a founding member of Telecities and the Living Labs network (2006) which became the European Network of Living Labs (ENoLL)
- Eurocities KSF launched its Smart Cities working group in April 2011, co-chaired by Manchester and Barcelona (both leads for EU CIP Smart Cities projects, Manchester with ‘Smart Innovation & People – SMARTiP’ and Barcelona with ‘Open Cities’)

Smart Cities Outcomes

- Setting out the basis for long term collaboration between Smart Cities, Living Labs and Future Internet
- Creating open innovation networks for new smart apps and services for city use-cases and test-beds
- Adding People in to create PPPs – Public-Private-People-Partners – Smart Cities needs Smart Citizens
- Co-creating innovative new business models for service delivery
- Supporting new projects as they develop
